COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

During the month of November the Town Office issued Food Stamps with a total value of $11,348.00. The recipients paid $5,328.65 as their share. There were 115 families served. These people are not all from Bethel. We have several who purchase their stamps here although they live in surrounding towns. Anyone with the authorization to purchase paper may go wherever stamps are sold to obtain them.

With the stamps a person may purchase any food they wish, also beverages except alcoholic. Prepared foods are included but these cannot be consumed on the premises.

Anyone having requests for projects next year especially those requiring money should present them to the office so the Selectmen can review them prior to Budget Committee meetings which will start the first of the year. Each year there are people who want an item in the Town Warrant but do not inform us until it is too late.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council has had the approval of the School Board to have a Foreign Exchange Student from Latin America attend Telstar for three months. If things get on the way soon we would like the student to come in January.

The Council is now constructing a committee of teachers, administrators, and citizens to choose a home for the student to live in for this period. We would like any citizen who is interested in either having a student live with them or being on the committee for choosing the home to please contact Felix Otero during school hours before the end of next week. Telephone: 824-2027.

The Student Council is very excited about having a foreign student attend Telstar and hope that with your help we can make this possible. Thank you.

BSE Program Scheduled for Next Monday Evening

Members of the Bethel Health and Service Council with the aid of local nurses are organizing and training for the Breast Self-Examination program scheduled for the Lecture Hall, Telstar Regional High School, 7 p. m., Dec. 9. It is jointly sponsored by the Health Council with Mrs. George Philippon, program co-ordinator; the Oxford County Unit of the Maine Cancer Society, with Mrs. Howard Cole, education chairperson; and the Health Information Forum, Rosabelle Tifft, Director of Public Relations, Rumford Community Hospital.

Janet Stowell, R. N., will introduce the program featuring a current American Cancer Society film "Breast Self-Examination" and a discussion period conducted by Dr. John B. Makin, Jr. Following this the audience will divide into small groups and professional nurses will instruct each person in the methods of self-examination. Breast models, which simulate the human breast, will be used to familiarize women with the feel of a lump. Local nurses Nellie Frankevicz, Gwen Stecher, Annabelle Lee, Michelene Roy, Patricia Hudson, with Mrs. Stowell and Mrs. Cole participated in advance training classes to aid in the instruction process. Mrs. Dexter Landers is in charge of the refreshments for the program.

According to the Maine Cancer Society statistics 20 new mastectomy patients can be expected in Oxford County within the next year. Breast self-examination, if practiced by all women, could increase the cure rate from 49 to 90%. Take advantage of this opportunity to learn this life-saving procedure.....teenagers through senior citizens are invited to participate at the Lecture Room, Telstar Regional High School, Monday, Dec. 9.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETS TONIGHT

The monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society will be held tonight (Thursday) at Moses Mason House, at 7:30. A program featuring Christmas in Bethel's past will be presented. All members and the interested public are urged to attend.

By 1976: A Cleaner Androscoggin

Despite fears that the 1972 impoundment of federal funds would hamstring efforts to clean up the Androscoggin River, it now appears that the Androscoggin will indeed be a substantially cleaner river by 1976. With one possible exception, all municipal wastewater treatment facilities on the Maine segments of the river are scheduled to be completed by Oct. 1, 1976, and all industrial dischargers in the Androscoggin will operate under federal discharge permits with strict compliance schedules for applying best practicable control technology. According to John A. S. McGlennon, Regional Administrator of the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency, "Municipal and industrial sewage are the chief sources of pollution to the Androscoggin. EPA's two major tools for abating and controlling these kinds of pollution are the Construction Grants Program and the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System, both mandated by the Federal Water Pollution Control Act (FWPCA) of 1972.

The Construction Grants Program authorizes grants to local governments of federal funds to cover 75% of the allowable project costs for needed sewage treatment facilities. This program is the second largest public works program in the country, with some $2 billion allocated nationwide in fiscal year 1973, $3 billion for fiscal 1974, and $4 billion for 1975. Through a cost recovery system set up by each municipality, the federal share of capital costs is recovered from industrial users over a period not to exceed 30 years, and operation and maintenance costs are collected on a proportionate basis from any one who disposes of liquid wastes through the municipal sewage treatment system.

More than $14,000,000 has been awarded to Maine municipalities along the Androscoggin for construction of wastewater treatment facilities. Recent grants totalling $5,245,943 made to the Rumford-Mexico Sewer District and to the Mexico Sewer District will provide a regional wastewater collection and treatment system. Construction began in August of this year, and should be complete by May 1976. At that time, the facility will serve a population of 9,500; it is capable of serving 21,500, the projected population of the area served in the year 2000. Dixfield and Peru will eventually be in to the Rumford-Mexico System.

Grants of $1,084,80 and $1,968,750 have been made to Lisbon and Livermore Falls, respectively, for construction of secondary wastewater treatment facilities. The Lisbon plant should be complete by May, 1975 and the Livermore Falls plant by June 1975. The latter facility will serve a population of 9500, including the Jay Center and Chisholm sections of Jay.

Prior to the passage of the 1972 amendments to the FWPCA, EPA made grants totaling $3,702,574 to Jay, Bethel, and the Lewiston-Auburn Water Pollution Control Authority for construction of secondary water pollution control facilities. Before EPA was formed in December, 1970, the predecessor agency provided partial funding for a secondary treatment plant in Bath, and a primary plant in Brunswick.

Mr. McGlennon noted that, "No construction of municipal treatment facilities is currently underway along the New Hampshire segment of the Androscoggin.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MARY AND LISA HOWARD

Only time can ease the pain
that's locked within my heart
Nothing can ever erase the memories now and then a tear will start.
I can still see your lovely face enhanced by that friendly smile
Little Lisa was so very young, our chance to love her was such a short while.
God works in mysterious ways
We don't always understand
Like why it was such a tragedy before he took you from our land.
No one can ever take your place
no one else can fill your shoes
I love and cherish your memories those feelings of you I'll never lose.
I know you're now in heaven
they say all are happy there
But your family still misses you and forever we will care.

Husband and Mother and family

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ROGER E. WRIGHT

There's a mother who misses you sadly,
And finds the time long since you went,
And I think of you daily and hourly,
But try to be brave and content.
But the tears that I shed in silence
And I breathe a sigh of regret,
For you were mine and I remember,
Though all the world forgets.

Sadly missed by Mother

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Coliste Morgan, Corres. —

How beautiful the nights have been! I looked up to the sky and saw the winter moon, that filled the snow covered world with magic light.

Last night something was happening while the tired world slept for when I looked out this morning the trees were etched in glittering frost. I thought of taking a picture; such ethereal beauty though can never be captured on a film, but it can put an ecstasy in the heart.

There are minor ecstacies for all of us for fragments of beauty fill every horizon: sun brightness on new fallen snow, sparkling diamonds of ice, rosebuds and tulips and daffodils, song of the thrush, blossoms falling softly from a summer tree, glory of autumn.

When the winter winds go howling past, my collections of ecstacies will bring lasting pleasures.

One morning I was surprised to see a little animal not quite all white but with a definite black tip on his tail. He went up and down the driveway and in and out of the wall, now and then standing up to look about, and I wondered if he had found my Chippy. He was that "symbol of incredible activity", the weasel. He is about the bloodthirstiest of creatures. With reckless courage he fights other animals bigger than he is.

Some parts of the pond were tested and used for skating by the children this week end.

"The girls in bright-hued jackets
And the boys in mackinaws,
Make as pretty a picture card
As any artist draws".

—Gladys Harp

THE TRUTH THAT HEALS

A Christian Science radio series

However, Gorham and Berlin are both expected to apply for Step I and Step II grants, that is, planning and design grants, during this fiscal year."

The other major action program mandated by the FWPCA to abate and control water pollution is the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System. Under the provisions of the federal statute, no industry or municipality may discharge any pollutant into the nation's waterways without a discharge permit. Maine permits will be issued jointly by EPA and the Maine Board of Environmental Protection, and New Hampshire permits by EPA until these states pass necessary legislation and are prepared to accept full responsibility for the permit program.

A permit is not a license to pollute. Rather, it strictly regulates what kinds of wastes may be discharged and in what quantities. Permits also contain compliance schedules requiring industries to apply best practicable control technology and municipalities to apply secondary treatment—or in some cases, even more stringent measures in order to meet water quality standards—no later than July 1, 1977. (Maine has its own accelerated schedule with a target date of October 1, 1976.) Permit violations are punishable by stiff fines and a possible prison sentence.

The major industrial dischargers in the Androscoggin Basin are pulp and paper mills, which produce an effluent loaded with BOD (biochemical oxygen demand) and suspended solids.

The Regional Administrator explained that these particular pollutants do have striking adverse effects on a waterway. They make the stream unpleasant aesthetically and undesirable for recreation. The oxygen demanding wastes lower the levels of dissolved oxygen so dramatically that fish such as trout and salmon simply cannot survive. Fortunately, however, control technology for these pollutants is readily available.

Brown Paper Company in Berlin, N. H., was issued a permit in May, 1974. The company began construction of its own treatment facilities in May, and construction should be complete by February, 1977. Although the plant will not be operating in time to meet Maine's accelerated statutory schedule, it will be on line before the federal statutory date of July 1, 1977

In addition to constructing treatment facilities, Brown has made changes in plant operating procedure which have reduced effluent BOD loadings from about 150,000 pounds per day to as low as 60,000 pounds per day. Mr. McGlennon noted, "This is still a great deal of BOD, equivalent to the BOD produced by a population of 400,000 people. However, these changes in operational mode have resulted in a perceptible change in water quality below the Brown plant."

The Oxford Paper Company in Rumford was issued its permit in June, 1973, and will have completed its own treatment plant by October, 1976. International Paper has two mills — Androscoggin Mill and the Otis Mill, and permits for both have just recently been issued. The Androscoggin Mill plans to enlarge its operation, doubling its capacity. Therefore, its permit requires it to meet certain effluent limitations by Oct. 1, 1976, and when the capacity is doubled, to meet different set of criteria. The percentages of pollutants permitted in the effluent will be the same, but since there will be a greater volume of effluent, the actual numbers will be greater.

The Pejebscot Paper Company in Topsham should have its own treatment system on line by the end of this year or early next year. Max Miller and Company, a textile firm in Lewiston, will tie into the Lewiston-Auburn regional system this month. In Lisbon Falls, U. S. Gypsum, a fiberboard manufacturer, and another Max Miller plant will be tying into the Lisbon treatment facility in late 1975.

All but two permits for municipal discharges in to the Androscoggin have been issued. The permit for Lewiston-Auburn will be issued by the end of this month, and the Brunswick permit has been temporarily delayed.

Mr. McGlennon concluded, "Thus, all municipal and industrial discharges into the Maine portions of the Androscoggin will be controlled to some degree by Oct. 1, 1976. However, the effects of municipal and industrial discharges into the New Hampshire segments will continue to be seen in most of the length of the river. Until the Brown treatment plant and the municipal treatment facilities in Gorham and Berlin go on line, it is quite possible that neither the New Hampshire nor Maine segment of the Androscoggin will meet its prescribed water quality standards. However, when all the plants are operational, the Androscoggin once again will be what its Indian name implies, 'full of fish'."

BETHEL LIONS TO ACCEPT DONATIONS ON "$50 GROCERY BAG" PRIZE

Supping sumptuously on turkey tetrazzini in front of John and Bev Gasser's glowing fire at the Sudbury Inn last Tuesday night, the Bethel Lions Club made plans for a raffle to take place from Dec. 10th through the 21st. Affable LION John Rayne, resident manager for SAGA at Gould Academy, and Chairman of the Committee, indicated that since these staples were being purchased at wholesale, the value of the bundle might more realistically be placed at $65-$70. When a friendly LION growls at you during the next few weeks, pacify him and benefit yourself by making a donation to this worthy cause. All proceeds go to charity.

LIONS Joe Punsky, Norm Tweedie, Bernard Harrison, Ed Platt nad James Rano drove up from the Thornton Heights LIONS Club, South Portland, to break bread and share thoughts for a thoroughly enjoyable evening.

Within the next few days, you will see in various stores and in the Post Office, boxes in which you are asked to deposit old, broken, or unused or outgrown eyeglasses. LION Cliff Hobbins, Chairman for this project, explains that Lions International repairs or regrinds these items for the use of those who need help.

News later about the light bulb sale, starting in January.

DEMOCRATS MET SUNDAY

The Bethel Democrats met on Sunday, Dec. 1, at the home of State Representative-elect Emily Saunders. The group reviewed the many pieces of correspondence received by Mrs. Saunders regarding the contests for offices in the legislature. Voting on these offices will take place during the prelegislative conference which Mrs. Saunders will be attending this week in Augusta.

The conference will also provide an introduction to legislative procedures for newly-elected members and afford county delegations and special groups, such as women legislators, a chance to meet.

The December meeting of the Democratic town committee will take the form of a social gathering to thank campaign workers.

The next regular meeting will be held on Sunday evening, Jan. 12, with the place and topic to be announced. The January meeting will be the first in a series of issue-oriented discussions which will be open to anyone interested.

"TRACKING FUN" FOR SPRUCE MOUNTAIN EXPLORERS

A good tracker can piece together a great deal of information by observing tracks. This knowledge is useful in many situations. Also it is just plain fun.

The Spruce Mountain Explorers, for interested students 5th grade and up, will be studying tracks, playing tracking games, and following animal tracks this Saturday from 9:30-12 noon. This will be at the Spruce Mountain Environmental Center in Woodstock. It is off of Rt. 232. Turn off at the big turn near Rumford Corner by Thornton's Chicken Farm and follow the small, green Spruce Mtn. signs. It is about four miles from the turn.

They remind those who wish to attend to dress warmly.

For further information call either 364-3457 or 824-2215.

30 Seconds WITH THE NAZARENE

Rev. Barbara Huse, Pastor
Bethel Church of the Nazarene

Sometimes we find it difficult to understand why department stores and businesses are already making big plans for Christmas. Even before we observe a day of Thanksgiving the stores are filled with all the symbols people have associated with Christmas. We even resort to a bit of criticism and say, "This is just plain commercialism, it is all wrong!" We probably all agree it is greatly overdone. But let us do a bit of serious thinking. Here it is only a few short days before that magical time for little folks. We heard it said one time that a lady passing by a department store window that had the Nativity Scene displayed said something like this, "Isn't it disgusting, the church is even trying to horn in on Christmas." Something is wrong my friends! Maybe we who love the Lord Jesus and believe this is what Christmas is all about—just maybe we had better do some preparing, too. Let us all be prepared to receive the Christ of Christmas and the glorious meaning of the season. Oh yes, Peace—Joy—Love—Jesus the Greatest Gift of all. In the words of the scripture...."Prepare the way for the Lord...." Matthew 3:3, New International Version.

Bethel Head Start

The Head Start mothers have been busy planning their Christmas Basket raffle. The basket will contain fixin's for a complete Christmas dinner—turkey to dessert. The Mothers will be accepting donations until Dec. 19 when the basket will be awarded. The lucky winner will be determined at the Children's Christmas Party.

The Mothers have also started plans for a New Year's Eve Cabaret. Once again the generosity of the American Legion here in town will help the parents by providing a place for their activity.

Christian Robiller rejoined us on Monday after his tonsillectomy last week.

Shawn Morrill and Michael Leon also were back after being absent last week.

We've had a real short week—Monday our children went home early because of the storm, Tuesday our school was cancelled because of a proposed clinic. The storm caused the cancellation of the clinic also.

We'll be starting Christmas projects soon—it's a lot closer than you think! All you need is 17 children to instill the feeling of the holidays in you!

Something for you all to be looking forward to is our planned open house. We hope to have one or more and we hope to get a good response. Head Start is not all that new in Bethel, yet we're sure you must all have some questions that could be answered by visiting us! But, you don't have to wait for an open house—come on in, our door is always open!

— Eveline Barrett, Corres. —

Monday evening. What a day it has been and I guess it may be a bad night. Lots of accidents.

When the leaves came off one of the maple trees in our yard we found a large hornets nest about 30 feet high in the tree. Everyone said it was a sign of a long, winter. During the wild wind storm of Nov. 26 the hornets nest dropped into the snow. Don't know what that means unless it is weather like today.

Tuesday during the heavy blow the West Paris Fire Department was called to Herbert Stevens' house for a chimney fire. An awful day for fire.

The ladies in town are seeing that Owen Bonney is well fed. When Eveline Barrett took him a hot dinner Monday he said that Doris Lawrence had brought him some biscuits so he gave the store bread away. He said they were the best biscuits he ever ate. Maybe he will get fat while his wife is in the nursing home.

Uncle Sam had a portable wheelchair delivered to Joseph Barrett. It will be easier to get outside now. Mrs. Jennie King and Mrs. Ann Flavin, West Paris, were in our little hamlet remembering the shut-ins.

Callers at Ellsworth Lawrence's were Sandra Jeffrey, Jim Coffin, Lena Kangus, Bob Faulkingham, Marian Hazelton.

Elwood Yeaton Jr., two years old, is in ICU at CMG Hospital with second and third degree burns on throat, chest and stomach.

Friday, Dec. 6, the Barretts will observe their 47th wedding anniversary in the same old way, staying home with TV. How did people get along without TV? I know, but times and things were different then.

BARRACKS & AUXILIARY #2943 MEETS

The Barracks and Auxiliary #2943 of World War I met at the Legion Hall for their regular meeting Tuesday, Dec. 3.

It was preceded by a turkey dinner furnished by the Barracks. Frances Bennett and Nell Valentine took over for the Auxiliary's committee and prepared the meal with other members. The regular committee was unable to serve owing to the icy highway.

Twenty-three members were seated at the table. Carroll Valentine gave the blessing.

A tree and exchange of gifts followed the dinner, with Selma Chapman serving as Santa.

The Auxiliary's meeting opened with President Frances Bennett presiding. The roll call found three officers absent. Mary Bishop served as guard and Adeline Dexter as conductress. Fourteen members were in attendance.

It was voted that members would give donations through the winter instead of the usual calendar fund of the past.

The last two "bibs" for Togus were donated. And several members will make quilt-squares to be made also for Togus. The committee in charge is Iola Forbes, Frances Bennett and Selma Chapman.

Cards and stamps donated by Olive Head were greatly appreciated.

It was reported that Leona Curtis is recuperating at her home from a broken wrist. Nellie Cummings was able to be with us, following her illness. Cards were sent to both.

The meetings will recess until Tuesday, April 1, 1975. Committee for April is Leona Lurvey, Maud Danforth and Leona Curtis.

A warm thank you was given the Barracks by the Auxiliary in appreciation of the Christmas dinner.

Lester Richardson

Co-Op Corner

Pam Coolidge

Lester Richardson, a junior at Telstar, is employed at Tim Carter's farm through the Co-Op Program.

One of the primary objectives of the Co-Op Program is to provide skill training, i. e., an opportunity for students to learn the skills necessary to continue their careers upon completion of their education. Some of the skills being learned by Lester include: operation and maintenance of farm machinery (tractors, trucks and the bulldozer), care and feeding of live stock, milking equipment and procedures, and soil tillage operations. Through his Co-Op placement, Lester is gaining knowledge in agriculture which should be helpful to him in pursuing his career goal, i. e., attending a vocational school to study the agricultural sciences. Lester relates he is gaining better understanding of how a farm operates, and what it is like to work on one.

When Lester isn't working or attending school he likes to hunt, fish, ride motorcycles, and swim. A life-long resident of the district, Lester is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson, East Andover.
